

DISC GOLF INFORMATION

WHAT IS DISC GOLF?

Instead of clubs, balls, and a hole in the ground, disc golf enthusiasts use discs and baskets (pole holes). Disc golf shares the joys of the power of a long drive, or the finesse of sinking a long putt, but also the frustrations of hitting a tree or having a putt fall just short.

WHO PLAYS DISC GOLF?

Disc golf is very unique in that it is played and enjoyed by all ability levels and by those of school age or old age. Because disc golf is so easy to learn, no one is excluded! Many disc golf players are members of the Professional Disc Golf Association (PDGA.com), the governing body for the sport, which sanctions competitive events for all skill levels and ages, and provides many player services such as maintaining a course directory and establishing rules of play.

WHERE DO I PLAY?

Most disc golf courses are located in city parks. We are very fortunate to have many such parks in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico. Locations of courses can be found online.

LOCAL DISC GOLF HISTORY

Disc golf formally started in the early 1970's. In Canadian, disc golf was introduced in summer 2013 by several local and regional disc golf enthusiasts. Today the course is maintained through joint efforts of the Canadian Parks and Recreation Department and the Canadian Disc Golf Club. The Club welcomes all players to come join them to have some fun!

LEARN MORE, HAVE MORE FUN!

A player can learn many new techniques, improve his/her game, have much more fun, and make new friends by participation in the Club events. Find additional information by visiting PDGA.com, the Club Facebook page, and this course sign on a regular basis.
